

A Family History

Robert R. Pavlis

Updates after 2019 by Gary L. Pavlis

This is a volume of family history. The Bogenhagen section is rewritten from a Bogenhagen family history originally compiled by Kathy Bogenhagen Ostrem. The Ketelhut section is the work of Arthur Grulke. I have also added information about the Pavlis family, the Jasch family, and the Sharping family, and added many entries to both the Ketelhut and Bogenhagen history. I have put all families into a constant format so that people who occur in more than one family will occur at the same outline level. This makes it very simple to determine how different people are related to one another.

The outline levels in order are:

1. Capital Roman numbers, I, II, III, etc. 2. Capital Roman letters, A,B,C, etc. 3. Arabic numbers, 1,2,3, etc. 4. Lower case Roman letters, a,b,c,etc. 5. Double lower case Roman letters, aa, bb, cc, etc. 6. Triple lower case Roman letters, aaa, bbb, ccc, etc.

How am I related to whom?

If two people have the same parents they are brothers or sisters. If two people have the same grandparents they are cousins. If two people have the same great grandparents they are second cousins. If two people have the same great great grandparents they are third cousins. A person's sibling's children are nieces and nephews. A person's parent's siblings are aunts and uncles. A person's sibling's grandchildren are grandnieces or grandnephews. A person's grandparent's siblings are great aunts or great uncles. When two people are related so that one has the same grandparent as the other one's great grandparent, these people are cousins once removed. Two people who are related so that one has the same great grandparent as the other one has great great grandparents are second cousins once removed. In this manner nth cousins m times removed can be defined!

This history his designed to be extendable. I took great pains to make each family totally independent of the others. Relatives who are not related to all the people in this volume can remove the part of the volume not related to them, and can add more relatives. It would be best if the same outline were followed as used here to avoid confusion.

Pavlis Family

The early history of the Pavlis family that migrated to what is now southern South Dakota in the latter half of the nineteenth century from Europe is somewhat nebulous. Although they came to the Dakota Territory from an area of the Austro-Hungarian Empire about 100 km south east of Prague, the name Pavlis is not Slavic at all, it is Greek! It seems almost certain that an earlier ancestor named Παβλις fled the oppressive Ottoman empire, probably sometime during the late eighteenth or early nineteenth century. The name Pavlis was spelled Pavliš in Europe. On arrival in America some members of the family spelled it Pavlis, others Pavlish. The problem was that the letter š does not occur in English! The earliest known male ancestor was born about 1830 in Telecin, now the Czech Republic. Documents examined by Robert Pavlis and Agnes Engel in the late 1980's indicated that his name was Josef. Oddly Jaroslav Pavlis said that his father had said his name was Anton. The documents, however, were quite unequivocal. Anton must have been Josef's Father, or else he used his middle name. Another group of Pavlis family members migrated to Michigan from the area of Tabor, very near Telecin and Polička. They almost certainly are relatives, although the exact connexion is not known. It is likely that they are decedents of a brother or cousin of Josef.

I. Josef Pavliš was born in Telecin about 1830. He died in Europe. He married Anna Kučera who was born in 1832 in Telecin. She migrated to the United States with her youngest children in about 1890. She lived with her son James and his wife on homestead plots south west of the present site of Geddes, S.D. from her arrival until about 1900 when they moved to another farm in White Swan township that was later occupied by Louie and Charlie Pavlis. She died on 18 March 1917. She is buried in the small cemetery west of Geddes Lake. A local farmer, the late Harold Robinson, removed tomb stones from the site to prop up his porch. The grave was unmarked until 2004 when a group of relatives placed a tombstone on the site.

A. Josef Pavliš was born in 1856. He died on 8 December 1920. He married Emilie Plihal. (Lorraine Augspurger is fairly certain this was 1929, other information said 1927.)

1. Emilie Pavlis was born on 10 September 1884. She died on 10 Jan 1979. She was first married to James Kandl, and later married August Hegar.

- 2. John Pavlis was born 23 July 1883. He died 20 Sept 1978. He married Anna Rezek.
- D. James Pavliš was born on 2 October 1867 in Polecka. He died in September 1947. He married Anna Dufek. She, oddly, never told any of her children anything about her family. It is known, however, that she had a brother named Frank who lived much of his life in Oklahoma, and at least two sisters, one was married to John Travnicek of Tyndall South Dakota, and the other to a Hermann. Rumour has it that her parents were buried in Centerville, South Dakota. Anna Dufek was born on 7 May 1871 and died in 1938. The birth date on her tombstone in Lake Andes, South Dakota is incorrect. She was born in Moravia. William thought her Father's name was Frank.
- 1. Charles Pavlis was born on 13 May 1899. He died in March of 1960.
- 2. Louie Pavlis was born 13 May 1902. He died on 6 October 1989.

5. Agnes Rose Pavlis was born 24 April 1914. She was always known as Agnes, even though she was originally given the name Rose Agnes. She married Ralph Engel who died in 1994.

In 1995 Chad Pavlis received a call from Roy A. Davis, 414 Lingle Lane, Midland, Michigan 48640. He had seen Chad's name in a Dow Chemical company personelle listing, and was curious as to whether Chad might be a relative of his. When information he had was compared with information about the Pavlis family in southern South Dakota, it was apparent that they almost certainly were relatives, because the name is extremely uncommon in the Czech republic and because the South Dakota Pavlis family and his had come from adjoining villages. The Roy Davis' ancestor Paul Pavliš was about the same age as Josef Pavliš, the oldest known ancestor of the South Dakota Pavlis family. Perhaps Paul and Josef were brothers, born to a Pavliš who first fled Moslem persecution in Ottoman ruled Greece. This outline is filled out on the assumption that they were brothers.

II. Paul Pavliš was born in what was then Bohemia in the Tabor area where Polička is also located. He had three children, the name of one is unknown.

The Sharping Family

The Sharping family records are much less extensive than Ketelhuts! August Sharping was born in Germany in April 1824.

He was married to Wilhemina Bremer in Germany. Wilhemina is a Dutch name. From records in Dutch St. Maartin there was a lady born by that name born there who was August's age. The records list marriage and death dates and other significant things about those in them. No marriage or death dates are listed for her. Many of the female descendants of August and Wilhemina have steatopygia, an almost strictly African trait. Many of them have very dark skin, highly untypical of northern Europeans. Some of them have extreme salt sensitivity high blood pressure, a trait found mostly in "Transported Africans". Some family members have clearly African features.

She spent at least her later life in Germany. Their children migrated to America, and after she died, August joined them. He died on 24 May 1896. He is buried in the Kimball, S.Dak. cemetery. The tomb stone is made of marble, and also has the names of several of his grandchildren who died also around 1896 from a severe diphtheria epidemic. Many descendants still live from Kimball, SD, to Chamberlain.

I. Amelia Sharping was born about 1860. She died about 1939. She married Charlie Goetsch. They are buried in the Chamberlain S.D. cemetery.

Kenneth Merrill's Advice to Writers

1. Watch your spelling. Writers who mispell a lot of words are properly regarded as illiterate.
2. Don't forget the apostrophe where it's needed. But don't stick where there's no need for it. A writer's reputation hangs on such apparent trifles.
3. Be careful of the grammatical case of pronouns. Mistakes here can give a bad name to us writers (i.e. to you and I.)
4. Don't exaggerate. Overstate always causes infinite harm.
5. Avoiding foreign phrases as a conditio sine qua non for the writer who wants to be klar und deutlich, especially if he is writing for oi polloi. Le mot juste is most likely to be found in one's own lingua madre.
6. The careful writer must take pains with homophones which are all easy to confuse. Though understandable, such confusions are great on the reader's nerves.
7. Beware of the dangling participle. Forgetting this admonition, infelicitous phrases creep into our writing.
8. Cliches should be avoided like the plague. However, hackneyed language is not likely to be a problem for the writer who, since he was knee high to a grasshopper, has built a better mousetrap and has kept his shoulder to the wheel.
9. Keep your language simple. Eschew sesquipedalian locutions and fustian rhetoric. Stay clear of the crepuscular–nay tenebrific and fuliginous–regions of orotund sonorities.
10. Avoid vogue words. Hopefully, the writer will remember that his words impact the reader at the dynamic interface of creative thought and action. To be viable, the writer's parameters must enable him to engage the knowledgeable reader in a meaningful dialogue—especially at this point in time when people tend to prioritise their priorities optimally.
11. Avoid profane or abusive language. It is a damned outrage how many knuckle-dragging slobos vilify people with whom they disagree.
12. When the passive voice is used, a certain flaccidity and awkwardness is introduced into the writing style. I have been struck by the thought that a law should be passed whereby the passive voice would not be permitted to be used unless an official is applied to and a special dispensation is granted.
13. Beware of the Gemini trap. Many pairs of English words differ only in their suffixes. It is incredulous how negligible writers are about this problem. The writer who would cultivate a perspicacious style cannot afford to flaunt the good council offered in this rule—though some people actually flout their infelicities as a badge of distinction. Such behaviour is contemptuous.
